THE COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Habeas Corpus Hearing on Tuesday Afternoon.

HELD THEM FOR TRIAL

Winfield Gregg, Charles and Howard Stewart, Remanded to Jail to Await Trial at August Term of Court.

CHARGED WITH KILLING OF McHUGH

Reported by W. Harrison Walker, Esq.

The second week of April term of court commenced Monday May 1st, 1905, with Hon. Ellis L. Orvis on the bench. Prothonotary Kimport and Register Archey, were in their usual places. W. H. Faries, Esq. of Sunbury is here in place of Mr. Burrows, as stenographer for the week.

The morning session was taken up in the presentation of motions and petitions by the several members of the bar.

The first case called was that of W. H. Runkle use of Peter Smith vs. G. L. Goodhart, Administrator of Mary Slack, deceased, James Kimport and L. W. Kimport. The case took all Monday afternoon and part of Tuesday morning. From the facts in the case it appeared that the husband of Mary Slack conveyed his interest in real estate to her, and that by reason of this the plaintiff in the case was unable to collect the amount of money due to him on a certain note which he held against the defendant. The verdict will be given later.

The following cases were then continued by the court :

Mary J. Gates et al, vs Minnie Rowan and Alfred Rowan. Action of ejectment. Plea, not guilty.

Mary Gates et al, vs David Meyer. action of ejectment. Plea, not guilty.

L. O. Meek and D. G. Meek, trading and doing business under the firm name of College Hardware Co. vs T. D. Boal. Action of assumpsit Plea non assumpsit.

David Moore vs Nora Moore. Action of divorce.

Osceola Lumber Co. vs Mary Barrett. Mechanic's lien. Plea non assumpsit.

F. Hirsh vs Rush Twp. Action of assumpsit. Plea non assumpsit.

Christian Reese vs Henry Woomer and William Woomer. Action of ejectment. Plea, not guilty.

J. C. Gilliland vs J. H. Ross et al. Action of treepass. Plea, not guilty.

Court called Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Hon. Ellis L. Orvis, P. J. on the bench and the other Court officials in their respective places.

This being the time set for the hearing of the writ of Habeas Corpus in the case of Commonwealth vs Charles Stewart, Howard Stewart and Winfield Gregg who were committed to the jail of Centre County charged with an assault and murder of Michael McHugh. Witness were called and testified, in substance, as follows :

Prisoners brought into court by Sheriff Taylor and Turnkey Sheffler.

W. G. Runkle, Esq. represented the Commonwealth while Hon. John G. Love, Hon. W. C. Heinle, George W. Zeigler, Esq., and Jas. Miller, represented the defendants.

Anna McHugh called on part of Commonwealth :—Live in Rush township, wife of Michael McHugh, husband left home at 3:30 April 11, '05, he went to blacksmith shop near Greggs shanty, he went to Greggs shanty after that, I saw him go in, didn't see him after that until he was brought home a corpse, found his hat a few steps away from Greggs' shanty, Gregg wouldn't tell me where Mike was, I can see shanty from my house.

John Maustin live in Rush Twp., know defendants, knew McHugh very well, had a talk with Gregg on April 12th, heard that they were searching for McHugh, we made search of creek up to shanty, I went into shanty and met Gregg and he said that witness would never see Mike McHugh alive. He said Stewart told him that he was out along the creek dead and that he would never see him alive again. Stewart had mud half way up his body, they were all drinking and quarrelling, I think Gregg was under influence of liquor.

John Fitzgerald, sworn :—Live at Osceola Mills, knew defendants, also knew McHugh, I helped to search for body of McHugh, we went up to Greggs shanty, Gregg told me at shanty that McHugh had been there the night before. He told me where I could find McHugh. He told me that it was no use to look up the creek that he was down below the bridge and was dead. I didn't find him below the bridge, Gregg was under influence of liquor on the morning of the 12th of April when I saw him at shanty.

Barney McHugh sworn :—Son of Mike McHugh, I found father below the bridge. Heard Gregg say that his father was below the bridge and where he would find him, he would find him dead. Where he was found the water was 3½ feet deep, bridge over Moshannon creek was 6 feet high, tram road bridge. Don't cross any bridge between shanty and my fathers home.

Peter Offord, sworn :—Live in Rush Twp., knew defendants, also McHugh. Heard on April 12, '05, at 11 o'clock. Had scrap about "Irish," hit McHugh and knocked him off nail keg. Gregg didn't have anything to say, saw all of them in shanty, this was on April 11th at about 11 p. m., they were not drinking when I was there, only looked in through window.

Dan McCullough sworn :—Know defendants, knew McHugh, talked with Gregg about 7 a. m. on April 12, '05, Gregg told me "For God sake go and hunt McHugh." Was at shanty the evening before, saw McHugh there. Stewarts were not there. Everybody there was in "bad shape." All drunk.

Pat Roach sworn :—Live in Rush Twp., April 11th '05, I passed Greggs shanty, I heard Howard Stewart say that Stancey started it all, that was 11 p. m.

Pat McCafferty testified that he was there when McHugh's body was found and talked with Gregg, he said Howard has a scrap with McHugh He also said that Howard took McHugh or rather started for his home, and was gone about one hour, when he returned his clothes were muddy up to his waist. Gregg was drunk April 12th, in the afternoon.

John Carney, testified that he did not know any of the defendants, and had never seen them until the day of the inquest, when he saw Gregg in his shanty. He testified that Gregg told him that the night before Stewart had told Gregg to go and take McHugh home that he was dead.

Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, testified that he had made a post mortem examination on the body of McHugh on April 28th, 1905, at 6 o'clock p. m. He found different marks and wounds on the face and ears of McHugh, and under all consideration he was satisfied that McHugh was dead before he reached Moshannon creek. On cross examination the Doctor admitted that the wound could have been made by a fall.

Dr. S. M. Huff, County Coroner, testified that he was with Dr. Hayes at the time post mortem was made, but his testimony practically corroborated that of Dr. Hayes.

The inquest held by the Justice of the Peace, B. J. LaPorte, of Philipsburg, was offered in evidence and read.

The jury decided that McHugh came to his death on April 11th, by accidental drowning.

After the above evidence was submitted to the Court, Judge Love made a strong argument in favor of the release of the defendant's stating that under all the facts there was no such evidence adduced upon which they could be convicted of the crime for which they are severely charged.

Judge Orvis, remanded the prisoners without bail. He discussed very fully the charges, and the different phases of the case as well as the discussion of the evidence which had been adduced on the witness stand by the several witnesses on behalf of the Commonwealth.

Death of Edward Foster.

Edward Foster died at his home in Bush Addition at 1 o'clock Saturday of paralysis. Mr. Foster who was employed at the Match factory was about to go to his work Saturday morning when he suddenly fell to the floor and never regained consciousness. The doctor pronounced him to be suffering from paralysis.

The deceased was born in Bellefonte and was the son of the late Squire Samuel Foster. He was 52 years of age. He is survived by his wife, who is a step-daughter of the late Mrs. Harriet Linn, and the following children; Samuel, of Beaver Falls, Harriet and Sarah at home.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in the Union cemetery.

DIRECTORS CONVENTION!

Met in the Court House at Noon Tuesday.

PROF. D. O. ETTERS

Elected County Superintendent of Schools to Succeed the Present Incumbent C. L. Gramley—The Opposing Candidate Was F. M. Pletcher.

ETTERS WON, 134 TO 33 FOR PLETCHER

The School directors of Centre county met in convention in the Court House Tuesday at 12 o'clock sharp for the purpose of electing a County Superintendent for the ensuing three years. There are 204 school directors in the county and every school district in the county was represented, with few absentees.

There was a large number of spectators present, drawn there by the sharp contest for County Superintendent. Before the convention met it was known that Supt. Gramley had refused to allow his name to be used as a candidate for re-election. This robbed the convention of considerable of its interest. There remained however two candidates for the office, Prof. D. O. Etters, of Bellefonte, and Prof. Milford Pletcher of Howard.

At 12:10 Supt. Gramley called the convention to order and read the call for the same. Dr. W. W. Andrews, of Philipsburg, was elected by acclamation as chairman of the convention.

Supt. Gramley then made a graceful speech thanking the School Directors for having elected him three times as their Superintendent of Schools. Supt Gramley announced that he would not be a candidate again, He urged on the Directors to give his successor their earnest and hearty support.

G. G. Fink, of Huston township, was elected reading clerk. S. W. Smith, of Centre Hall, and Dr. O. W. McEntire, of Howard, were elected secretaries.

D. F. Fortney then offered a resolution endorsing the course of Supt. Gramley during his incumbency of the office of County Superintendent. He paid Prof. Gramley a high compliment. The motion was carried by a rising vote.

The clerk then called the roll of directors, which showed quite a number of absentees.

The chairman then called for nominations for County Superintendent. Senator Heinle then arose and made an eloquent speech placing in nomination Prof. David O. Etters, of Bellefonte, as a candidate for County Superintendent. The nomination was seconded by H. C. Quigley, Esq.

Dr. O. W. McEntire, of Howard, then arose and in an excellent speech nominated Prof. Milford Pletcher for Superintendent. The nomination was duly seconded.

The clerk then called the roll of delegates and the result was as follows :

D. O. Etters	134
Milford Pletcher	33

Prof. Etters was therefore declared elected County Superintendent. The result was received with enthusiastic applause.

Prof. Etters made a very graceful speech thanking the conventoin for the honor they had conferred upon him and asking their hearty co-operation in his efforts to make the work of the schools successful.

Prof. Pletcher was called upon and he also made a few appropriate remarks after which the convention adjourned.

EXECUTION DAY.

Preparations for the Hanging of Green and Dillen Nearly Completed.

On next Tuesday May 9 between the hours of ten and two o'clock, Ira Green and William Dillen will pay the penalty of their crime in killing Turnkey Condo, by their deaths on the scaffold in the Centre County jail yard.

Preparations for the execution are going on rapidly, The old gallows on which Hopkins and Andrews paid the death penalty was brought out last week and this week it was erected by Samuel Gault in the south east corner of the jail yard. Tuesday afternoon the trap was tested and every thing seemed to work all right.

As the day of execution approaches Dillen seems to realize more and more, the gravity of his position. He is a truly penitent man and it can be said that he has embraced religion and made his peace with God. He says he is prepared to die.

Green on the other hand does not seem to realize his position at all. He is a cheerful as ever and laughs and jokes with his guards and those who visit him. Tuesday his wife and baby, his mother and his mother-in-law were with him nearly all day.

Both Green and Dillen have made confessions to their spiritual adviser, Rev W. B. Cox, pastor of the Evangelical church at this place. These confessions will not be published until after their death.

Green and Dillen have realized considerable money from the sale of their pictures and from a poem written about them by one of the prisoners. Copies of the poem they sell 5 cents a piece and the pictures for 25 cents. This money goes to purchase them a few comforts and what is left after their death will go to their families.

Last Sunday there were over 500 people visited the jail. At Rev. Crittenden's song service in the afternoon there were 82 present. Next Sunday and Monday however the general public will be barred from the jail. There will be religious services but only the clergyman, singers and a few others will be present.

WILLIAM HART.

Death of a Well Known Bellefonte Citizen.

William Hart, one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of this place, died at his home on East Bishop street at 12:30 o'clock Saturday morning after an illness of two weeks duration. Death was due to acute softening of the brain and although the end had been expected for several days yet it was nevertheless a great shock to his bereaved family and friends.

William Hart was born in Cornwall, England, and was sixty-eight years of age. When a lad twenty years of age he came to this country and located first in the state of Michigan. He studied hard and became a successful mining engineer following this business for the greater part of his life. For many years he was a resident of Bloomsburg, Pa., finally coming to Bellefonte in 1889 where he has ever since resided. Since coming here he has been engaged in the clothing business, acting as sales agent for Wanamaker and Brown.

Mr. Hart was a member of the church of England and since coming here of St. John's Episcopal church. He was a singer of considerable reputation and sang in church choirs ever since he was ten years of age. For twenty-seven years he sang in the Episcopal choir at Bloomsburg and since coming to Bellefonte has sang in the Episcopal choir here up until late years.

He was married to Miss Amelia Webb, who survives him with the following children, Hattie, George, Elizabeth and Samuel, all of Bellefonte.

He also leaves two brothers, George and Samuel and a sister, Mrs. Martha Tregloan, all of Linden, Wisconsin.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. John's Episcopal church. Interment in the Union cemetery.

The D. A. R. Contest.

The Daughters of the American Revolution annually give a prize of $10 to the two pupils of the Midway school who shall write the best essay on some incident of the Revolutionary war. This year's contest was held on Friday afternoon and there were ten contestants. Two prizes of $5.00 each were awarded, the prize winners being Miss Grace Steele and Milford Smith.

The judges were Mrs. John P. Lyon, Mrs. James P. Coburn and Miss Myra Humes.

TWO FATAL EXPLOSIONS

Acetylene Plant at Bellwood Explodes.

ONE MAN WAS KILLED

Broad Street Station in Philadelphia Has a Fatal Explosion—Two Men Killed in Electric Light Plant.

OTHER IMPORTANT NEWS OF THE DAY.

Philadelphia, May 1.—Two men were instantly killed Sunday night by the explosion of a tank in the electric light plant at the Broad Street Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The dead are :

George D. Tollinger, aged 62 years, foreman of the night shift.

George E. Hoye, aged 35 years, engineer.

There were three other men in the place, but they escaped without receiving any injury.

The electric light plant is stationed on the right side of Filbert street, under the train shed. The tank that exploded contained water and air and was used to regulate the running of elevators. The explosion was so great that the electric light power machinery, including the duplicate sets, were damaged. This plant supplies light for the general offices of the company, the entire station and train shed, and many company buildings along the elevated tracks from the station to the Schuylkill river, a distance of nearly a mile.

Broad Street Station was well filled with passengers when the explosion occurred. The shock of the explosion shook the building and with it the lights went out causing some excitement and much confusion. The great station was left so dark that passengers had much difficulty in finding trains.

In consequence of the accident all trains departed late. The signal light system of the company was not disturbed.

EXPLOSION OF ACETYLENE.

Altoona, May 1.—Buried under six tons of salt and every bone in his body broken, J. M. McCloskey, aged 32, councilman, volunteer fireman and prominent business man of Bellwood, seven miles east of here, was instantly killed by the explosion of an acetylene gas plant in the wareroom of L. W. Irvine & Company, of which firm he was a member. When the lights went down in the store at 10 o'clock Sunday night McCloskey went into the ware room to recharge the tank. Later he went back with a lantern, and the explosion followed.

The building was blown to pieces and the end of the store demolished and two mules in the stable next to it killed. Loss $20 000.

Henry Moyer.

Henry Moyer, a life long resident of the south side of Potter township, died at his home near Tusseyville, Friday night, April 21, of dropsy. Interment took place at Tusseyville Tuesday, Rev. Daniel Gress, of the Reformed church, to which faith the deceased adhered, officiating. He had been ill for several months, and for the last few weeks of his life death was expected at most any time.

The deceased was a farmer by occupation and was a prominent figure in the locality in which he lived. Two brothers survive, namely, John, of Tusseyville and Frederick, of Penn Hall, Mrs. Henry Smith, deceased, was also a sister. The surviving children are William, who with his family lived with the aged father and and mother, Maggie, Mrs. Charles B. Neff, Centre Hall; Jennie, wife of William F. Rockey, Tusseyville; Kate, wife of George Lee, Tusseyville; Mary, wife of Ezra Ripka, Lewistown; and Myra, at home.

Died in California.

Philip J. Bugbee, died in San Jose, California, after a very brief illness. He suffered from a growth near the heart, and a short time prior to his death was informed that an operation was necessary. He was born in New Orleans, 1850, and when two years old went with his family to the Pacific coast. Mr. Bugbee was the husband of Mary Meyer, sister of D. J. Meyer, of Centre Hall. Mrs. Bugbee and two daughters survive.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Borough Fathers Held Exciting Meeting Monday Night.

The borough council met on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the council chamber in the Public building on Howard street. President Jenkins was in the chair and the following members present: Kirk, Brown, Fenlon, Seibert, Wise, Keichline, Keller and Derstine. As will be seen every member was present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the clerk, Mr. W. T. Kelly and there being no corrections they stood approved.

W. B. Rankin asked that water be extended to his two properties on Fifth avenue. Two other property owners Samuel Robinson and Ben Shaffer would also use the water. He was told they could have the water for 20 cents per thousand gallons. This was agreed to by Mr. Rankin and he was told he could have the water.

The boro treasurer made his report which showed that a balance was due the treasurer of $1174.96. The water account showed a healthy balance to its credit.

Theodore Cherry asked that a sewer be laid on North Thomas street and stated that several of the property owners there would tap this sewer. He said that it was very much needed.

The proposed ordinance regulating the speed of automobiles which was held over from last meeting was laid on the table. This was due to the fact that the Governor has just signed a bill passed at the last legislature regulating the speed of automobiles to ten miles an hour.

The ordinance regulating the conduct of the Pruner Orphanage and finally accepting the same was then taken up and read. Dr. Kirk moved the adoption of the ordinance as read. His motion was not seconded.

Mr. Keller then offered a resolution repealing the ordinance passed in March which accepted the bequest and rescinding the bequest and accept Mrs. Sarah Hayes offer of $10,000 in lieu of it. This motion was seconded by Mr. Fenlon. Mr. Keller and Mr. Fenlon argued against the acceptance of the bequest under any circumstances. Dr. Kirk and Mr. Jenkins were strongly in favor of accepting it. The arguments were quite interesting.

Finally after much argument the motion of Mr. Keller was withdrawn for the time being. Mr. Keller then moved that the ordinance be laid on the table until next meeting, seconded by Mr. Fenlon and carried. Dr. Kirk voting Nay.

A representative of the J. I. Case company stated the merits of their steam street rollers which they desired to sell council.

Geo. R. Meek, ex-treasurer, in the presence of council turned over to his successor, treasurer James K. Barnhart, the Sinking Fund, which some people always thought were mythical. There were 16 boro bonds of $500 each and boro orders as follows : $320, $2,000, $2529.60, $162 46, $61 65 and three Bellefonte gas company orders for $535. When Boro Treasurer Meek became treasurer the only thing in the Sinking fund was the gas orders for $535. This was certainly a splendid showing for Mr. Meek.

Burgess Walker made his report for the last month.

James R. Hughes in a communication requested an appropriation from council for the popular subscription toward beautifying the Academy grounds. Mr. Fenlon made a motion that the borough subscribe $100 toward the Improvement fund for the Academy grounds. The motion was seconded by Mr. Derstine. Dr. Kirk opposed the motion, as the boro debt is too high already, but it carried, the Doctor being the only one to vote nay.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn.

A Way Some Men Have With Their Wives

BROWN got up the other morning with a dark red gleam in his eyes and a dark brown taste in his mouth, but as he descended to the breakfast room he assumed a cheeriness that was intended to conceal his condition from Mrs. Brown.

"Ah, my dear," said he, rubbing his hands briskly as he approached the table, "what have we for breakfast this morning?"

"Nothing much, Walter," she replied. "Just some nice bacon and eggs."

Brown choked a hiccough before it reached the surface, but lost his grip on his good intentions in strangling it.

"Bacon and eggs!" he sniffed. "Good heavens, woman! Can't you ever think of anything else? We've had bacon and eggs every morning for six weeks."

"If you can wait a few minutes, my dear, I'll have the cook broil a chicken for you," Mrs. Brown said meekly.

"But I can't wait," snapped Brown, "and you know I can't wait. Bacon and eggs! I'll go to a hotel for my breakfast, and—and you needn't expect me home for dinner. Bacon and eggs!"

Brown grabbed his coat and hat and floated out, leaving meek Mrs. Brown in tears. He drowned another attack of hiccoughs with a brace of "bracers" at the hotel bar and then entered the dining room.

"What have you got that's particularly appetizing?" he asked of the waiter.

"How would you like a nice squab chicken broiled?" the waiter inquired.

"No, I don't want any chicken. Tired of it," snapped Brown.

"Or some broiled lamb chops, with hash browned"—

"No lamb for me. No hashed anything."

"Some sort of fish perhaps?"

"Not on your life! No ptomaines; not any."

"Or an omelet?"

"Nix."

"Or some bacon and eggs?"

"Ah," said Brown, rubbing his hands in satisfaction, "now you are hitting me where I live! Some bacon and eggs, to be sure, and hurry them along, for I'm half starved."—New York Press.

A Bearded Buss.

Ruth had a habit of biting the ends of her yellow curls and had been severely reprimanded. Some days later an old friend of the family who wears a very bushy beard called and, taking the child on his knee, asked for a kiss. Ruth looked at her mother and then at the man.

"Well, am I to have a kiss?" the visitor asked, rather amused at her hesitation.

"I dess not. I tan't kiss you, 'cause my mamma don't low me to eat hair."

She was excused.—Lippincott's Magazine

Womanlike.

"Please, ma'am, the florist's man left some roses addressed, 'To the most beautiful woman in the world.'"

"Yes. Where are they?"

"Why, you see, I didn't know whether they were for me or for you. Suppose we divide them."—Boston Journal.

Rewards For Churchgoing.

At Holsworthy, in Devonshire, England, the prettiest girl who attends church gets well rewarded for doing so. About fifty years or so ago it struck the Rev. Thomas Meyrick, who was then vicar of the parish, that the young ladies there did not attend church so often as they might do. So he left a sum of money, and this, according to the terms of his will, was to be put out at interest. The annual income from it was to be given each year to the prettiest young woman at Holsworthy who had attended church regularly for that year.

M'GAHAN AND SCOBELEFF.

The Newspaper Man's Picture of the Great Russian General.

McGahan was the correspondent who first described to Europe the Bulgarian atrocities. What a brilliant creature he was, with his steel blue eyes, his face as delicately chiseled as though it were of marble, his lithe, light frame and that suggestion of absolute courage, iron resolve, underneath the almost feminine tininess of the features. He was one of the intimates of Scobeleff—indeed, the men were so attached to each other that Scobeleff nearly always insisted that McGahan should share his tent with him, and McGahan was in the tent of Scobeleff the night after the disastrous assault on Plevna. Scobeleff was, said McGahan, a wonderful picture of the horrors and terrors of war. His face was black with powder, his uniform was in rags, and his sword was twisted like a corkscrew. It is evident from this description that Scobeleff took part with his own hand in some of the work of the day. There was a sequel, by the way, to this picture. I am not quite sure whether McGahan published it, but he told it to me. Scobeleff was always a dandy. Even in leading a charge he was dressed with dandical precision. In the middle of the night McGahan was woke up, and he saw Scobeleff dressing himself with great care, putting on a new uniform and even perfuming his hair and clothes. And then came another transformation. Scobeleff, his elaborate toilet finished, sat down on his bed and burst into a shower of tears and a tempest of sobs, thinking over all his poor men who had been so vainly sacrificed in the attempt to gain the fortress.—London M. INAUGURATION BALLS.

The First Was Madison's, Saturday Evening, March 4, 1809.

Four hundred guests, as all the contemporaneous accounts agree, gathered at the first inauguration ball, which took place on the evening of Saturday, March 4, 1809, at Mr. Long's hotel, on Capitol hill, in celebration of the accession to the presidency of James Madison. Each of the three presidents who had preceded him in office had been permitted to close the day of his inauguration by going early to bed. General Washington and John Adams had been inaugurated at temporary capitols, and Thomas Jefferson would have rebelled against a ceremony plainly modeled upon the customs of royalty, but when Madison's inauguration came the new federal city had been a visible fact for nine years and was determined to assert a right to enjoy itself. Even in doing so it followed a habit always hitherto associated with the celebration of the coronation of kings.

Royal customs were really the only ones the people knew, for every American in Washington over thirty-two years of age had been born the subject of a king, and the new order of things had not given birth to new ideas of how to manifest rejoicing. Moreover, if the method chosen seems to some to have been an imitation of monarchical customs, they should reflect in extenuation that it is an instinct of man coequal with his feeling the sensation of pleasure to show his joy by dancing. So an official ball closed the day of Madison's inauguration and has closed the inauguration day of every president who has succeeded him.—Gaillard Hunt in Century.

A WONDERFUL CHILD.

John Stuart Mill Was a Genius at Three Years of Age.

At three years of age John Stuart Mill began the study of Greek, with "arithmetic as an evening relaxation," as Samuel Wellington puts it in the Westminster Review.

At eight he began Latin, Euclid and algebra and had to act as tutor to the younger children. He was a stern and efficient tutor.

At twelve he began scholastic logic and political economy—the latter his main lifework.

At fourteen, while paying a long visit to Sir Samuel Bentham in southern France, he learned French as a relaxation from studying two or three hours before breakfast, five hours between breakfast and dinner and two or three in the evening. Being for the time master of his own hours and not subject to a stern father, he took lessons also in his spare hours in music, singing, dancing, fencing and riding, but never became proficient.

At sixteen Mill could speak in debate with adults with ease and freedom. At eighteen he contributed to the Westminster Review. At twenty-one he was made assistant in the India office and received a large salary for those days.

But Mill was bald at twenty-two. He did not marry until he was forty-five. He himself said: "I never was a boy. It is better to let nature have its own way."

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"Fer ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad at times I could not speak above a whispe," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montmorenci, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. It's effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Adulteration of Buckwheat Middlings.

By the ordinary milling process buckwheat is divided into three products:

(a) The flour, which contains chiefly the starchy matters.

(b) The middlings or bran, which includes that portion of the seed which is richest in protein and is situated next to the true seed coat; as the name implies, it also contains the seed coats themselves it is therefore much richer in protein than any other of the buck-wheat products.

(c) The hulls, which are largely composed of woody matter, forming a strong protective cover for the seed, and have but little value for feeding.

The average proportions of protein and fiber in these three classes of products are:

	Protein Per cent	Fiber Per cent
Flour	7	.3
Middlings or bran	29	4.0
Hulls	4 5	37.0

The term "buckwheat feed" has come into use to designate a mixture of hulls and middlings, just as the term "oat feed" is used to designate a mixture of oat hulls with a little of the fragments of oat kernel; whereas in case of rye and barley the name "feed" applies to a mixture of the true bran with the middlings. The composition of buckwheat feed will vary, of course, with the proportions in which the hulls and middlings are combined, but the temptation always is to make it carry as much of the inferior hulls as possible.

A number of instances have recently come to our notice in which sales of buckwheat feed have been made under the name "buckwheat middlings." As an illustration; a sample of the "middlings" has recently been examined by the Station and found to have the following chemical composition:

	Per cent
Water	11.03
Ash	4.85
Protein	14.96
Fiber	21.05
Nitrogen-free-extract	43.84
Fat	4.27
	100.00

The microscope revealed the presence of grass seeds from green and yellow fox tail and barnyard grasses, probably introduced as accidental impurities with the buckwheat hulls, which were present in large quantities. If hulls and middlings were mixed in equal proportions, the mixture would contain about 17 per cent. of protein and 20 per cent. of fiber. It appears, therefore that in this sample there was present upward of 50 per cent of material of extremely inferior value for feeding purposes. In particular, a purchaser intending to use the middlings as a source of protein to balance the ration of his dairy herd would be likely to be greatly disappointed in the results obtained and to lose much more than the commercial value of the middlings replaced by the hulls.

The buyer can, however, readily detect this adulteration, for the middlings themselves are comparatively fine and light-colored and do not have a large quantity of coarse, dark material present, while in the buckwheat feed the hulls are especially conspicuous.

Republican State Convention at Harrisburg.

HARMONY HELD SWAY

Gen. Beaver Nominated for Superior Court Judge--Orlady and Rice Also Named.

HON. J. LEE PLUMMER FOR TREASURER

The Republican State Convention at Harrisburg Wednesday nominated Representative J. Lee Plummer, of Hollidaysburg, for State Treasurer renominated President Judge Charles E. Rice, of Wilkes-Barre; Judge George B. Orlady, of Huntingdon, and Judge James A. Beaver, of Bellefonte, for Superior Court Judges and elected Wesley R. Andrews, of Meadville, Chairman of the Republican State Committee.

The selections were made by acclamation. The convention was in session 90 minutes and there was not a sign of opposition to the details arranged in advance by the leaders. The platform endorses the administration of President and Governor Pennypacker and the work of the recent Legislature favors a continuation of the present pension policy of the National administration, advocates the enlargement of the rural free delivery system, endorses the leadership of United States Senator Boise Penrose and commends the Capitol Commission for its work in pushing to an early completion the new state capitol.

THE CANDIDATE FOR TREASURER.

Mr. Plummer was a member of the House of Representatives from Blair county in the sessions of 1903 and 1905. He was chairman of the Appropriation Committee at the recent session. Should he be elected he will take office in May, 1906.

The judicial nominees were originally appointed by Governor Hastings in 1895, when the court was created, and the same year they were nominated by the Republican State Convention and elected. Their present commissions will expire next January when they will be re-commissioned, if elected, for the term of ten years.

Mr. Andrews has for many years been Secretary of the Republican State committee and private secretary to Senator Penrose, whom he succeeds as State Chairman. Mr Penrose declined to again be a candidate.

United States Senator P. C. Knox, of Pittsburg, chairman of the Allegheny county delegation, was unable to attend the convention by reason of a business engagement.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER PRESIDED.

Mr. Knox was the original choice of the leaders for chairman of the convention, but owing to his inability to be present this honor was accorded Congressman A. O. Cooper, of Fayette county.

John D. Blair, of Blair county, nominated Mr. Plummer for State Treasurer. Speaker Henry F. Walton, of Philadelphia, seconded the nomination

Harry Keller Esq, made an eloquent speech nominating Hon. James A. Beaver for Superior Court Judge. The speaker dwelt upon the military record of Gen. Beaver and paid him a tribute as a soldier, citizen, governor and judge. His speech was complimented on all sides and it made an excellent impression. In tomorrow's issue we will publish the speech in full.

T. B. Patton, of Huntingdon county, named Judge Orlady and D. A. Fell, of Luzerne county, presented Judge Rice's name This concluded the nominations and the convention received the reports of the committees. On the recommendation of the committee on permanent organization the temporary officers of the convention were made permanent,

The platform was reported from the Resolution Committee and read by General Bingham, after which it was formally adopted.

There being no opposition to the candidates named for State Treasurer and Superior Court Judges a formal ballot was dispensed with and the Secretary was directed to cast a ballot for Messrs. Plummer, Rice, Orlady and Beaver, who were declared the nominees.

The rules governing the election of a State Chairman by the Republican State Committe were suspended and Mr. Andrews was elected by acclamation after which the convention at 12:10 adjourned.

MAJOR E. W. HALE.

A Brother of the Late Judge Hale Dies at Towanda.

Many of our older residents will remember Major E. W. Hale who often visited Bellefonte in the earlier days when his brother Judge James T. Hale was alive and lived in the residence now occupied by Col. Spangler. Mr. William P. Humes handed us a copy of the Towanda Daily Review of April 22nd which contains the following account of the death of Major Hale.

Major E. W. Hale, one of the most widely known men in Bradford county and prominently identified with many business interests, died at his home "Woodside," in Towanda township at 12.30 o'clock yesterday morning, aged 88 years. Major Hale had been in unusually good health for a man of his advanced years until within the past month when he began to fail. The end came peacefully. Death was due to the infirmities of old age.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon. Private service at the family home at 4 o'clock, and public service in Christ church at 5 o'clock; interment in Oak Hill cemetery,

Major Hale's parents were among the first settlers of this region. His father was Reuben Hale and his mother Wealthy Tracy Hale. Reuben Hale was a native of Glastonburg, Conn., and settled in Towanda township in 1799 where he purchased a tract of land, later making subsequent purchases and becoming an extensive property owner.

Reuben Hale was born in 1777. He and Mrs. Hale lived in a log house until in 1810 they built the residence now known as "Woodside." Reuben Hale was the first postmaster of Towanda and served on the first grand jury in Bradford county. He was a very successful business man and his wife was one of the first school teachers in the county. To them were born five children: Mrs. General William Patton; Mrs. Benjamin S. Spees, James T. Hale, an eminent jurist and congressman of note, and Major Elias W. Hale.

Major Hale was born on Dec. 13, 1816 in the very house he lived in at the time of his death. He was educated in the common schools and the academy at Cazenovia. In early manhood he followed engineering on the North Branch canal. He has always been interested in farming and for many years was prominently indentified with the lumbering and milling interest of the county.

At the time of death he was the owner of a large number of stores and other properties in Towanda, also the Hale's Opera House. He was a director in the First National Bank of Towanda for many years. He was appointed by Governor Porter in 1850 to be major in the militia and has always gone by the title of Major. In the same year he was also appointed deputy United States marshall and took the census of the county. In 1864 he was one of the electors on the ticket that chose Abraham Lincoln for the presidency for a second term

In 1854 Major Hale was married to Miss Mary J. Taylor of Glastonburg, Conn., who with the following five children survive the deceased: Hon. James T. Hale of Duluth, Benjamin T. Hale and Elias W. Hale, Jr., of Towanda, Miss Jennie M. Hale and Mrs. John W. Codding, both of whom live at "Woodside."

Major Hale enjoyed unusually fine health for a man of his advanced years up to within a short time ago. He always lived a most energetic life and up to the time of his death manifested a keen interest in every thing that concerned this section. Last year he and Mrs. Hale celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding and the occasion was a most enjoyable one. Major Hale was devoted to his wife and children and loved to have them all gathered at "Woodside" where many family reunions were held.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Many Cases Disposed of and Several Sentences Imposed.

Reported by W. Harrison Walker, Esq.

On Wednesday morning the case of Commonwealth vs Grant Hoover, Anna L. Hoover, Mary Goheen and Mary Moore, was called for trial. They are indicted for removing and concealing personal property with intent to defraud creditors. H. H. Montgomery, constable of the South ward, being the prosecutor. From the information obtained from the indictment as well as from the evidence, it appeared that the prosecutor had levied on part of the defendant's property while residing on Linn street, to satisfy claims due F. E. Naginey and the Telephone company, and several other parties, but notwithstanding that fact the goods were delivered at the station at this place, and shipped to Williamsport.

After the evidence of the above case the attorney for the defendants submitted several points to the Court for positive instruction to the Jury. The verdict will be given in a later issue of this paper.

The jury in the case of Commonwealth vs Thomas D. Bowersox returned a verdict of guilty.

The following cases on the civil list, all being in the nature of appeals from judgments rendered by a Justice of the Peace were continued by the Court:

Morris Frank vs John G. Platt trading with William H. Roadhouse, as William H. Roadhouse.
John Harper vs same defendant.
Peter Stout vs same defendant.
Hugh Best vs same defendant.
Chas. Stover vs same defendant.
Isaac Brown vs same defendant.
Frank Stover vs same defendant.

The plea in the above several cases is non assumpsit and denial of alleged partnership.

On motion of counsel for the defendant in the case of the Commonwealth vs Grant Hoover et al the court held that Anna L. Hoover could not be convicted as charged, for the reason that she was the wife of Grant Hoover, one of the defendants, and what she did was presumed to be under the direction of her husband and that personally she could not be convicted; that the title to the property was claimed to be in the wife and that this Court could not try this question. The case was submitted to the jury on a question of costs. The verdict of the jury was that the county should pay them.

Arthur Norris vs Henry Swank, an appeal from judgment of justice of the peace. This case grows out of the plaintiff selling a cow to defendant, the defendant paying one dollar on purchase price and the plaintiff to deliver the cow at Lemont a few days later, and before the cow could be delivered she sickened and died and this action is brought to recover the balance of the purchase money. The defendant claims that it was not a completed contract, that he would lose the dollar but was not liable for the balance as the sale was not completed until the cow was delivered and the plaintiff lost the cow. Verdict on Thursday morning in favor of

GRAND JURY REPORT

Was filed Wednesday afternoon and in substance is as follows:

That they have acted upon thirteen bills of indictment, of which twelve were found true bills, and one not a true bill; and also upon two bridge view bills, which were approved.

We beg leave further to report that we have visited and inspected the county buildings and find the court house in fairly good shape, with the exception of the main corridor, the floor of which is very rough and the wall badly in need of painting and papering. The grand jury room also needs new paper and paint.

We further report the jail corridor in a deplorable condition; the floor is broken through in several places and so thin in others that it is actually unsafe to walk on, and would recommend that the proper parties be instructed to give this their immediate attention. We also find the hall of the residence portion, where all visitors are received, to be badly in need of paint and paper, and should be done promptly We also recommend that the plastering on the inside of the jail yard be removed and replaced with cement. We suggest this as a matter of economy, as the weather is slowly destroying the wall in the present condition.

Court called Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock for the purpose of disposing of parties found guilty as well as the presentations of the motions and petitions by the attorneys at the Bar. The following sentences were imposed: Robt. Ferenbauch, who was found guilty of embezzlement from the American Express Co. at Philipsburg, Pa., to pay a fine of $500 and costs of prosecution; also to undergo imprisonment at the Western Penitentiary for a period of two years.

Harry Kessinger and Geo. Fultz who plead guilty to larceny were each sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and costs of prosecution. Also to undergo imprisonment in the Huntingdon Reformatory, at Huntingdon, Pa., under the rules and regulations of that institution.

Edson Fultz, who also entered his plea of guilty in the same case was sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and costs of prosecution, and serve two years at solitary confinement in the Western penitentiary of Pennsylvania.

Thomas D. Bowersox, who was found guilty of larceny, for the money taken from the vest pocket of Michael Eby, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and costs of prosecution, and undergo an imprisonment in the jail of Centre county for a period of nine months.

Mrs. Edson Fultz was called up by the Court to inform her, that under the present circumstances he would not impose sentence. He, however, stated to her that in case she ever came before him in any criminal charge and if she was found guilty or entered plea of guilty, that sentence would certainly be imposed upon her.

The jury in the cases of Arthur Norris vs Henry Swank returned a verdict Thursday morning of $44 47 in favor of the plaintiff.

Motions were made for new trials in the cases of Weber vs Gentzel, and Rickets & Co. vs Meyers. These motions will be disposed of at June argument court.

A Simple Remedy for Acquiring Hard Muscles and a Sound Body.

A number 12 bore gun when loaded with three drams of powder will send a load of shot further and shoot harder than if double this amount of powder is used.

If too much powder is used, all of it will not explode until it leaves the muzzle of the gun.

That portion which does not explode at the proper time, interferes with the direction, and checks the velocity or force of the shot.

Hard muscles and a strong body do not depend on the quantity of food, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation.

If the nutrient properties of all of the food that may be eaten are appropriated by the blood and tissues, the muscles of the body will grow harder and stronger, whether you eat much or little.

You may be well, but not strong. What you want is strength,—physical force.

You do not have to be sick to need Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.

Thousands of men and millions of women have need for just what Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will do for them.

A little Kodol after meals, will enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate every atom of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten.

It will do more.

It will enable the stomach to extract from the food all its nutrient properties, and contribute the same to the blood.

It will enable the blood to circulate freely and deposit a full quota of this tissue-building and strength-giving material into every nook, corner, muscle and fibre of your whole being.

The result is perfect strength.

And perfect health.

Disease cannot lay hold on the man or woman whose physical condition is thus fortified. Recommended by Green's Pharmacy Co.

—A few evenings ago, whilst Mr. R. B. Spangler, one of Spangler's coal magnates, was sitting on his veranda, perusing the interesting columns of The Star, a horse attached to a buggy, suddenly balked and refused to move. As is usual in such cases, a crowd soon collected to manifest sympathy and offer suggestions; but the horse was obdurate. Every means was employed to make him get a move on, but without avail Finally Mr. Spangler could stand it no longer, and having been raised amongst balky horses at the home of his childhood, in Penns Valley, told the people to stand back, and he would show them a thing or two. He simply picked up a handful of mud, which happened to be convenient, and made the horses eat it. He then whispered a few words in the equine's ear, and said "git up." The horses started off and for all we know, is still going.—Barnesboro Star.

Get SCOTT'S Emulsion

When you go to a drug store and ask for Scott's Emulsion you know what you want; the man knows you ought to have it. Don't be surprised, though, if you are offered something else. Wines, cordials, extracts, etc., of cod liver oil are plentiful but don't imagine you are getting cod liver oil when you take them. Every year for thirty years we've been increasing the sales of Scott's Emulsion. Why? Because it has always been better than any substitute for it.

Vin-Te-Na... Means Vim.

It is a medicine that actually feeds the weakened nerves by enriching and purifying the blood. Each ingredient is of the highest medical value. It cures more diseases than any other remedy on the market simply because it gets right down to the source of nine-tenths of all diseases, that is, the blood and nerves. When the blood is made pure and rich and the nerves are toned, diseases disappear as surely as shadows disappear when the light is turned on. If you are rheumatic; if you have stomach, liver or bowel trouble; if your nervous system is going to pieces, Vin-te-na will cure you because all these troubles are caused by bad blood.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., May 3rd.

Postmaster General Cortelyou has inaugurated a new regime in the prosecution of fraud in his department, if it continues to be conducted on its present lines, promises to prove "a terror to wrong-doers." In fact, that is the Postmaster General's announced purpose. To begin with the Postmaster General issued instructions to the law division of his department to investigate every concern that on its face appeared to be conducting a fraudulent business as fast as they could be reached, without waiting, as has been the custom with former administrations, for some person who had been victimized to file a complaint. The result has been that a larger number of fraud orders have been issued during the last month than in any previous month in the history of the Department. With the reorganization of the Post Office Department the inspectors have been placed under the direct supervision of the Postmaster General instead of being in the Bureau of the Fourth Assistant, as heretofore, and inspectors realize that the evidence of their vigilance come to the personal notice of Mr. Cortelyou, so there is every inventive to do the thorough work. In time the Postmaster General hopes to develop this good work to an extent that will enable him to hold responsible the inspectors or the officials of the Law Division when an apparently objectionable advertisement appears continuously for a given period in the newspapers without it's authors being inspected by the postal authorities.

But Postmaster General Cortelyou has not confined his energies to the issuance of fraud orders against concerns doing a dishonest business. He has also issued a crusade against persons conducting or acting as agents for lotteries. In this work, in which the Postoffice Department has, in the past, been hampered by lack of co-operation from other Departments, Mr. Cortelyou has enlisted the sympathies and co-operation of the Treasury Department and of the Department of Justice. Already raids have been conducted and numerous arrests made in Tacoma, San Francisco and in Cleveland, although no arrests were made in the last named city. Within a few days raids will be conducted in eleven other cities where lotteries or their agencies are flourishing, according to information which has reached the Postoffice Department or the Secret Service men. The men thus far arrested claim that they represented the Mexican Lottery and that the tickets seized were for a Mexican drawing, but the Secret Service men are of the opinion that the concern has headquarters in San Francisco. They claim that the printing of the alluring tickets took place in that city.

Black Death, Plague, Rats and Fleas.

The origin and nature of the Black Death, which devastated Europe during the Middle Ages, has never been clear. It seems certain that the infection was brought by the ships of certain traders, escaping from the Crimea, where they had been attacked by the Tartars at a town on the River Don. During the attack the Tartars were stricken with violent plague, which caused great loss of life among them. In the hope of giving the curse to the people of the besieged town, they threw bodies of their dead into the town. Their hopes were fulfilled and the defenders were also attacked by the plague. These traders took to their ships and sailed to various European ports, Constantinople, Venice and Genoa, leaving the Black Death everywhere behind them. The Black Death had certain striking features in common with the Bombay plague of India. A careful search in the records of Indian history has shown that there had been an outbreak of plague in India just previous to the time of the Tartar siege and the introduction of the Black Death into Europe. These Tartars might very easily have taken the disease from the people of India. If that is the true story of the train of events, then the Black Death of the Middle Ages was the modern plague, a disease which we know to be caused by a certain specific bacillus.

Efforts have been made to learn the means by which this disease is carried, and what causes lead to an outbreak. Certain facts bearing on these points have lately come to light and many lead to a correct knowledge of the means of plague transmission. Rats have the disease and rat fleas have been examined and found to contain quantities of the plague bacilli. Ordinarily the rat fleas are not found on man. During epidemics of plague, however, these rat fleas are found in notable quantities on human beings, and there is no evident reason why they might not inoculate man by their bites. Doubtless, these things have something to do with the spread of plague, although enough is not yet known to allow the whole chain of events to be made out.—Collier's for May 6.

A Resident Missioner's Experience—One Day in Bellefonte.

Rather early in the morning, at the Post Office a good christian brother handed to me his subscription book asking for a little money in support of a church not more than ten miles from town.

I recalled what the preacher there in charge once said to me. "A church of our denomination ought never to have been built there. We hav'nt enough members to support any thing. There are families of three or four other denominations in that community. The church should have been a chapel for all and not sectarian."

Going from the Post Office to one of our Grocery Stores, I was approached by a christian woman from a town less than ten miles distant. She too had a subscription book asking from me a little money to help pay her preacher of a church which, in my humble opinion, should be merged, as soon as possible, with one of the other four churches of that place. Three churches would be better than five in a town of that size.

Reaching my "own hired house" near the noon hour, two rather attractive personages called and asked me for a little "self-denial money," well, it would have been "self denial money," if I had given them any. I told them I was a poor missioner laboring in communities having no preacher and beyond the reach of any church. That I needed a little "self-denial money" to freely furnish picture papers and gospel portions to neglected families in those places, and furthermore I verily believed that Bellefonte with its 9 churches, 10 preachers and a Y. M. C. A. could easily reach everyone in town with the means of salvation. Then the question occurred to me if a missioner is thus appealed to for money thrice in one day, what must be the experience of men in the business places of Bellefonte?

Religious Services at the Jail.

Editor The REPUBLICAN:—

Will you kindly say to your readers that there is no clash of religious services at the jail. No thought of any such thing so far as the writer is aware. Sheriff Taylor says there is no danger of doing his prisoners too much good. During the special services, the last of the kind for the present, to be held next Sunday from 4 to 5 p.m. no persons wil be admitted into the corridors, except the singers, a few other specially invited and any near relatives of the prisoners.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Preparations Being Made for Paying Annual Tribute to Soldier Dead.

The Grand Army are already planning for the observance of Memorial Day in Bellefonte and the adjoining country.

Over forty years ago you laid aside the implements of war, lifted the thread of your life's work which had been torn asunder by your service in the army and navy, and started in to help bind the wounds of our common country. You took your places in the rank of the Grand Army of the Republic and faithfully, sympathetically and sincerely on the 30th day of every May, accompanied by a patriotic public you have repaired to the cities of the dead, and there placed your emblems of remembrance upon the graves of your comrades who have crossed the dark river, and are resting under the shade of the trees on the other side. We are now approaching that period in our lives when again we will perform this loving service. The mounds over which waves the flag of our country are multiplying with great rapidity, the messenger of death is visiting the home of the soldier, sailor and marine of the war for the suppression of the Rebellion with alarming frequency, and soon, ah! too soon we shall have all answered the last call and stand in the presence of Him who doeth all things well, but in the garlanded chambers of memory the veteran of the war will continue to live until time shall be no more. Let us therefore, with a full knowledge of the purpose of the day, imbued with the same patriotic spirit that has actuated us for the past forty years, approach the discharge of its duties with a reverent spirit, and as we scatter the beautiful flowers of spring on the graves of our comrades, or cast them upon the waters to the memory of the sailors and marine, let it be done with the thought that with them it has been—

"Life's race well run,
Life's work well done,
Life's victory won,
Then cometh rest."

Academy Grounds Improvement Fund.

The people are taking a great interest in the movement for improving the Academy grounds and we know of a large number of contributions that will be sent to the different weeklies this week. Don't wait until next week to send in your subscription but send it now. Encourage others to give by setting the example yourself.

AFTER 34 YEARS.

The wise buyer is "posted" in what he buys and where to buy. 34 years of unquestioned ascendence. 34 years of steady improvement in quality and workmanship. 34 years of constant increase in sales and still growing. This is the record of Schofield's harness factory. (Are there any who will deny the above?) Three first class workmen kept busy all winter, making heavy and light harness. Our stock is complete in farm, tug, buggy, spring wagon and light double driving harness. Our chain harness this year are cheaper and better than ever. We have a large assortment of fine tug bridles, made in different styles.

We Invite You To Call

and examine our goods and get prices. Don't pay the price for old harness when you can buy new for the same money. Don't ask us to compete with inferior made goods, as we use only the best material and employ first class workmen.

We have over six hundred dollars worth of collars, ranging in price from two to four dollars. Don't fail to see these goods before buying. Yours truly, for your trade.

Millions of Money, Millions

The way the Standard Oil Co. made their millions was by selling us coal oil. Every time we consume a gallon of coal oil we add to their millions. They have a net profit of over 100 per cent. on every gollon of oil we consume. Electric light and city gas are both sold at over 100 per cent. clear profit. If you buy a and make your own light, which is a beautiful, soft white light, and only costs about one-third as much as city gas or electric light It is cheaper than coal oil. The Sunlight "Omega" light machine works automatically, no trouble and so simple to operate that anyone can learn how to make the light in ten minutes. If you live in the country, city or town you can have light that is better, purer, cheaper, less dangerous and less troublesome than any light in existance.

Sunlight "Omega" Acetylene Light Machine

Acetylene Fixtures, Chandeliers. etc., furnished at cost. Any church in my district who will light with acetylene, can have a contribution from me of 10 per cent. of their machine. Inquiries promptly answered, correspondence solicited, estimates furnished upon application.

Committee Wants Correct Names of Centre County Soldiers.

In order to secure absolute accuracy in the names and spelling thereof on our soldiers' monument, we will publish from time to time the lists of certain companies so as to enable those who are interested to suggest changes in initials or spelling, and also to suggest the names of any persons who may have been omitted from the rolls. This is the last opportunity which will be given to our people and to the survivors or friends of deceased soldiers who served from Centre county to have these names corrected. The Committee, therefore, appeals very earnestly to all who are interested in the subject to carefully scan all the names to ascertain.

1st, whether any have been omitted; and

2nd, whether the names of those already contained in the rolls are properly spelled.

It is also very important that the names of soldiers who enlisted in organizations outside of the county or State should be secured, in order that they may find their place among the nation's defenders upon the monument. This is perhaps the most important thing which the Committee has in charge, the organizations from our own county being already well known. If, therefore, any person, in or out of the county, has knowledge of a citizen of Centre county who enlisted in organizations outside of the county and State, it is especially important that their names should be ascertained, so that they may find a place among those who enlisted at home.

Any communication in regard to these names addressed to Gen. John I. Curtin or William H. Musser, Bellefonte, will receive prompt attention.

Bridge.

Among forms of gambling bridge has certainly special features. It opens to many persons, especially women, an excitement which they would not deem it right to seek in other kinds of gambling. The game has subsided slightly, if at all, in the larger cities, and is spreading rapidly in the country, where it brings the delights of dissipation to the humblest household. Potent indeed is fashion. Many a bridge fiend would think it evil to play poker for money. In some games betting is a subsidiary attraction, but in bridge it is the basis of the charm. Ladies even acquire that diseased restlessness known as "the gambler's eye." "Nothing," said Addison, "wears out a fine face like the vigils of the card-table and those cutting passions which attend them," and we have often felt as he did that "it is wonderful to see persons of sense passing away a dozen hours together in shuffling and dividing a pack of cards." However, the only use that many people can make of time is to seek modes of killing it. For this purpose, gambling is as good as drunkenness. "A gamester," said Bacon, "the greater master he is in his art, the worse man he is." There are occupations in which skill and pleasure are acquired with less encouragement than gambling gives to all the worst attributes of man.—Collier's for May 6.

Methodist Church at Snow Shoe to Be Dedicated Sunday.

Sunday, May 7th, will be an important day for the Methodists of the little mountain town of Snow Shoe, for on that day the handsome new Methodist Episcopal church just completed at that place will be dedicated with imposing services. Rev. Wilford P. Shriner, formerly the Methodist pastor at this place, but now located at Carlisle, will preach the dedicatory sermon in the morning. In the afternoon Presiding Elder J. Ellis Bell, of Altoona, will preach, and other prominent Methodist ministers are expected to be present.

The pastor of the Methodist church at Snow Shoe is Rev. H. J. Schuchart, through whose untiring efforts the new church has been brought to a successful finish.

BUYING A WATCH.

Filled Cases, Plated Cases and Good and Bad Movements.

"Not many men know how to buy a watch," said a jeweler, "and to a large extent they have to rely on the honesty of the dealer. So complicated is the business that even we go to the factories ourselves and arrange for special work in order to get the proper article, for, of course, we could not assay every case we receive.

"Now, how many people know the difference between a filled case and one that is plated? A filled case, you see, is a composition that resembles steel, with a plate of gold on each side, that on the outer being thicker than the inside. Such cases are guaranteed not to wear through within five, ten, fifteen or up to twenty-five years, the limit of the guarantee made by the reputable houses. If a man offers you a case warranted for thirty or forty years you are going to be bunkoed if you buy it. When you see watches offered for sale as gold filled for $3 or $4 depend upon it they are plated, and mighty thinly too.

"In the matter of watch movements," he continued, "the buyer is really at the mercy of the dealer. In one big factory about 3,000 movements are made every day. There is certain to be haste in that sort of output, and the name on the dial does not make up for imperfections. To avoid these a first class jeweler arranges for several hundred movements to be delivered a year hence.

"A strictly first class movement requires six months exactly in its passage through the factory from the beginning to the finished product ready to offer for sale. Such goods are then stamped with the name of the firm for which they are made and that firm has to stand sponsor for them. The Swiss watch, in its higher class, is the best movement in the world today. Of course there are cheap Swiss movements that you can buy for $3 or $4, but they keep good time."—Kansas City Star.

BOOKS.

What a sense of security in an old book which time has criticised for us.—Lowell.

Books are men of higher stature and the only men that speak aloud for future times to hear.—E. B. Browning.

We should make the same use of a book that the bee does of a flower. She steals sweets from it, but does not injure it.—Colten.

Books are the masters who instruct us without rods and ferules, without hard words and anger, without clothes or money.—Richard de Bury.

My maxims are never to begin a book without finishing it, never to consider it without knowing it, and to study with a whole mind.—Buxton.

A book is good company. It is full of conversation without loquacity. It is not offended at your absentmindedness nor jealous if you turn to other pleasures.—Beecher.

Peculiar Occupations.

The trade of toothstainer, followed in eastern Asia, is as odd a calling as any. The natives prefer black teeth to the whiter kind, and the toothstainer, with a little box of brushes and coloring matter, calls on his customers and stains their teeth. The process is not unlike that of blacking a boot, for a fine polish is given to the teeth. The pigment used is quite harmless. In Arabia the trade of "gossiper" has many followers. The "gossiper" collects all the news, tittle-tattle, jokes and stories he can get hold of and then goes from house to house retailing them. If he has a good manner and can adapt his recitals to his audiences he makes a very fair income.

A Chinese Trick.

An English gentleman who resided in China for many years tells the following story in illustration of the peculiar knavery of the Chinese character: A stout gentleman well known in China was some years ago feted at Taiwan for two or three days, "the observed of all observers," he being an immense man and a good specimen of a transatlantic Anglo-Saxon, but the series of crowded visits he received at length became troublesome, and he found he was being made too much of. The fact was he was being exhibited, a charge being made for the exhibition.

The First Shave.

Which of us does not recall with a gentle flutter of emotion the unutterable delight we experienced when we gravely set about that delicate operation, "the first shave," an innocent subterfuge to which a youth resorts by way of proving to his own satisfaction that he has reached the stage of full manhood? He has a beard!—Le Petit Parisien.

Her Mental Exercise.

"Why does your wife belong to so many clubs and debating societies?"

"Well," answered Mr. Meekton, "I think Henrietta feels the need of mental exercise. She likes to get away from home and be among people where she can't have her own way without an argument."—Washington Star.

FASHION'S MEDLEY.

Forecasts From Styles For the South—The Shirt Waist Up to Date.

Snow and sunshine, winter winds and the warm breath of the south, may be said to mingle in the atmosphere of fashion at this season. Upon the firmly established modes of cold weather impinge the special styles designed for those who flee from the harsh blasts and cutting airs of early spring to the balm of the Riviera or other foreign regions and to our own continental southern resorts. Though designed for the traveling contingent, these latter fashions have a very general interest because they are the harbingers, the first decided indications, of what the mode makers have in mind for the coming season.

The sketch presented does scant justice to one of these, a smart costume intended for the south or for spring wear. Its new material—beige brown and rose checked lainage—the semi-long basqued coat, with a collar of mordore suede, and the narrow brown velvet ribbon garniture distinguish it as a little gem by a gown building genius, and it forecasts the trim, tasteful, really refined styles toward which fashion now trends.

From the displays to be seen in the shops it is inferred that gay colors and soft materials are to lord it over the traditional grays and half tones of the spring.

The coat costume is everywhere almost invariably with a waistcoat or simulation of one of distinct material.

The shirt waist suit still holds its own, and much that is fanciful in the way of combination of different materials and the use of lace trimmings is to be noted. The "draped" shirt waist, having the fronts shirred at the center, up to the yoke, causing a draped fullness in the lower half of the waist, represents the newest feature. It is a pleasant fact, however, that the useful plain tucked white linen shirt waist, slightly bloused at the waist, to be worn with the regulation standing turnover linen collar and leather belt, is an assured thing.

Authorities in the fashionable world forecast elbow sleeves for all garments but shirt waists. This, of course, means the vogue of the undersleeve and the long glove for street wear.

Bodices of gowns incline strongly to the "cross over" variety, with oftentimes an inserted chemisette or vest and always a high pointed belt.

J. VERNON-WALDER.

Canny John Sherman.

The late Secretary John Sherman showed his talent for financiering at an early age. He and two of his brothers had been given a sum of money with which to pay their board while on a shooting trip for a week at the house of a farmer near Lancaster, O., their home.

The week ended, John ordered the wagon and paid his board. But the farmer refused the money, saying that the sons of Judge Sherman would always be welcome guests. When John found that he did not have to pay his board he sent the wagon back to the barn and stayed another week.—Lippincott's.

Furred Kettles.

A furred iron or copper kettle is easily cleaned. Place it empty over a clear fire for a short time. This will loosen the chalky deposit, which can then be removed. To prevent the kettle from furring again keep a large marble in it or an oyster shell will answer the same purpose.

How Health Is Gained.

The story of a great deal of the unhappiness of women is a story of lost health. Women wonder how it is that little by little the form loses plumpness, the cheeks grow hollow and sallow, and they feel tired and worn-out all the time. In a large proportion of cases when women are weak, run-down and falling off in flesh and looks, the root of the trouble can be traced to womanly diseases which undermine the general health. The proof of this is that women who have been cured of painful womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription have recovered their general health, gained in flesh and in appearance.

$500 Reward for Women Who Cannot be Cured.

The proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I suffered for three years with ovarian trouble," writes Mrs. Ann Quinn (Treasurer Woman's Athletic Club), of 602 Sycamore St. Milwaukee, Wis. "The treatment I took did not do me a particle of good, until a good neighbor who had been using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advised me to give it a trial. The next day took my first dose, and it was my first step toward recovery. In nine weeks I was a different woman; my flesh which had been flabby became firm, complexion clear and my eyes bright. It was simply an indication of the great change within from pain and suffering to health and happiness."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

BIG MINE DISASTER

Gas Explosion Killed Twelve Men in Du-Bois Mine

AT THE ELEANORA MINE

Fatality Occurred Late Thursday Night--Many of the Victims Leave Large Families.

RESCUERS SEARCHING FOR THE BODIES.

DuBois, Pa., April 29.--The mine disaster that occurred at Eleanora shaft Thursday night is the worst that has taken place in this region since 1896, when thirteen men were killed in the Berwind-White shaft near this city. Thursday night twelve men were killed and one had both legs and both arms broken. He will probably die. The explosion Thursday night occurred at 9:35, but for some unaccountable reason word was not sent to surrounding towns until Friday morning.

Althongh it was known at the time that the accident was an appalling one and that the death list would be great the news did not become generally known in the little village until Friday morning. Superintendent Fleming was notified and organized a small rescuing party. It was slow work because the brattice work had been blown down and had to be replaced as they proceeded. At 12 o'clock Thursday night the rescuers found Harry Mahoney, motorman. He was unconscious and did not revive until Friday morning, when he was taken to the Adrian hospital. He could not talk, however. It was not until 9 o'clock Friday morning that any more victims were found. John Hopkins, the trapper boy, was the first, and his body was taken to his home a few rods from the tipple. Others were brought to the surface frequently until the last was discovered late Friday afternoon. An examination of the bodies as they were laid on the floor of the little building near the shaft indicated that death had come suddenly. Those that had the black rust washed from their bodies showed evidence of having been burned, scarlet spots showing all over their bodies. Their clothing tore as though it were made of paper. There could not have been much flame, however, as the hair of the victims was not scarred.

Assistant Superintendent Driscoll telephoned Friday morning to Mine Inspector Hampson, but up until 3 o'clock Friday afternoon he had not arrived. Until the official investigation has been made it cannot be said what caused the explosion. The mining officials are emphatic in the assertion that it was not caused by gas. It is claimed that this shaft was exceptionally free from gas, although there was some present.

It is the theory of the officials that the charge that caused the disaster was put in a hole surrounded by hard material, probably slate, that is extra heavy, and resisted the powder, blowing the charge from the hole, or it may be that it was not properly tamped, although this is conjecture. Superintendent Fleming and Assistant Superintendent Driscoll were all through the mine Wednesday and there was no gas present at that time. Mr. Driscoll made another trip Thursday and everything seemed to be in good shape. Fire Boss Rue was in the west heading near where the explosion took place thirty-five minutes before it occurred and says there was not the slightest evidence of gas. Thirty-two men were working in the mine when the explosion let loose. Those who were uninjured had no difficulty in reaching the surface.

Woomer—Gross.

Harry E. Woomer was united in marriage on Wednesday, April 19th, to Miss Estelle M. Gross. Both the young people are residents of State College.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's grandfather, Wm. Gross, of Pleasant Hill. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. K. Harnish, of Lemont, after which a bountiful repast was served by Mrs. Cross. There were no invited guests outside of the immediate families. The friends of the happy couple extend their congratulations with best wishes for a pleasant journey through life.

FOR SUPERIOR COURT JUDGE.

Eloquent Speech of Harry Keller Esq., Nominating Gen. James A. Beaver of Bellefonte.

Harry Keller Esq., one of the leading attorney's at the Centre County bar and a delegate to the recent Republican State convention, had the honor of placing in nomination for Superior Court Judge our distinguished fellow townsman, Gen. James A. Beaver. The speech was an able effort and was forcibly and ably delivered. His speech in full was as follows

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:

It is my esteemed privilege to present as a candidate for nomination for Judge of Superior Court of Pennsylvania, one whose distinguished career is so well known to all present, that he needs no eulogy from me.

A native of Pennsylvania, of mixed German and English ancestry, than which there is no better blood, he has served his State and Country in widely different fields of usefulness, and with such notable success as to win, in each, great honor and renown.

He stood upon the threshold of young manhood at the breaking out of the Civil War, but without any hesitation, or stopping for a moment to consider his own personal interests, when the life of the Nation was at stake, he, at once offered his services to President Lincoln, and until the Union had been triumphantly preserved, never swerved from the pathway of duty, serving with such distinction that he rose from the rank of Lieutenant to that of Brevet Brigadier General. Three times was he seriously wounded, upon the last occasion by a musket ball which shattered his thigh, and disabled him for life by the loss of a leg. Speaking of his military record and achievements, Major General Hancock, under whom he served, said "He was engaged in some of the most important campaigns and battles of the Army of the Potomac, and took a conspicuous and distinguished part in many of them. I considered him one of the most intrepid, intelligent and efficient officers in our service during the war, and on several occasions mentioned him in my official reports for valuable service and distinguished bravery."

Although foremost among those, who, since the war have helped to bury sectional animosity and restore a united country, he has never ceased to take an active interest in all things pertaining to the welfare of his former comrades, and has assisted many a deserving veteran to obtain from our Government the recognition justly due him.

At the close of the War he resumed the practice of the law, soon becoming one of the foremost lawyers of Central Pennsylvania. Earnest, eloquent and impressive as an advocate, he undertook no man's cause, unless fully convinced of its justice, but then he battled with his whole strength, for what he believed to be the right, and usually with success. He would never stoop to deceive either the Court or Jury, and no one had a higher regard than he for his obligation as a Lawyer. "To act with all good fidelity as well to the Court as to the client."

Himself a college bred man, education has invariably found in him a warm friend and adherent and for many years he has served as a member of the Board of Trustees of several of our State's leading institutions of learning.

A stalwart Republican all his life and recognizing the necessity of a thorough party organization, if success was to be achieved, he has always taken an active and prominent part in the politics of Pennsylvania, ever having had the highest welfare of his party and country at heart.

The Republicans of his State have, on various occasions, attested their appreciation of his loyalty, worth, and ability by bestowing upon him high political and civil honors, crowning all by triumphantly electing him Governor of this great Commonwealth. The trying ordeal of this exalted position was borne with dignity, and credit to himself and the State, and with the same fidelity and devotion to the people's interests that have characterized his entire career

Sometime after his retirement from the Gubernatorial chair he was appointed by his friend and fellow-townsman, Governor Hastings in recognition of his eminent legal attainments, a Judge of the Superior Court of the State, when that body was organized ten years ago, and the people showed their approval of that choice by electing him to the same office, the ensuing fall.

Most ably, uprightly, and conscientiously has he fulfilled their trust and now in the full maturity of physical and mental vigor, he is generally recognized as one of the foremost jurists of the State.

It is, therefore, Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen, with the deepest feelings of pride and gratification, that I present for Judge of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, the name of one who is at the same time a brave and gallant soldier, an educated, Christian gentleman, a distinguished lawyer and jurist, and above all else a clean, square, manly man, the Honorable James Addams Beaver of Centre County.

NOTICE!

In pursuance of a request made by the citizens of the borough of Bellefonte and the Sup't of the Bellefonte Electric company it is hereby ordered that the fire alarm be tested each day, on and after the first day of May, A. D. 1905 (except Sunday) at six o'clock p. m.

Witness my hand and the seal of the said borough this 28th day of April A. D. 1905.

(SEAL) W. HARRISON WALKER, Burgess.

Burgess Walker upon being asked for his reasons for the above order stated, among other things: "That it was for the better protection of life and property, and that within the past week or ten days notice was given to the Electric Light station to give the alarm of fire when it was found that the whistle would not work, and on previous occasions it took five minutes before an alarm could be sounded. That by being tested each day it could always be repaired promptly if repairing was necessary. It is exceptionally important to the citizens of this borough that they should have all the protection possible, and especially in cases of conflagration."

Tramps Wanted.

Burgess W. Harrison Walker desires the fact announced that he wants tramps. Last spring he tried the experiment of hobbling all the tramps caught in the town with ball and chain and compelling them to clean up the streets of the town. The experiment proved a success. The streets were cleaned and the town was rid of hobos. This spring they have already become quite numerous in this vicinity and the burgess has decided to take them all in, hitch them to a ball and chain and not only have the streets cleaned up but use them in digging and filling up ditches required by the water department in putting down new pipe. So, come along, all the hobos who care to. You will find a warm welcome awaiting you in Bellefonte borough, as the police have been instructed to be exceptionally vigilant and in nowise neglect their duty as a reception committee.

Schwab Got a Big Contract.

American superiority over foreign rivals again triumphs in the complete success which has crowned the visit of Charles M. Schwab to St. Petersburg.

Mr. Schwab's negotiations with the Russians have resulted in the practical conclusion of an arrangement for the construction of a number of formidable battleships of a type which probably will startle the world. Mr. Schwab will leave St Petersburg tomorrow.

The details of the construction of the vessels are to be worked out, but in addition to those which will be built in the United States it is quite likely that a yard will be constructed at a Baltic port to be manned by Russian workmen, but under American engineering and mechanical supervision.

The new ships will be monster 16,000 ton vessels of enormous horse power and of a peculiar type, combining the projectile resisting power of the battleship with the speed and wide radius of action of cruisers. Mr. Schwab guarantees to create vessels with 20 per cent higher efficiency than any now existing.

While the Bethlehem company will supply the armor and ordinance, other American yards will profit in the construction of the hulls.

B. H. S. Defeated

The first ball game for the B. H. S. was no Austerlitz for it. The S. C. H. S., though "stuffed" with State men, were only able to score 11 runs to our 6. This, considering everything, is a fairly good score, although fumbles were numerous we feel confident that with some good team work this and other weak points could be eliminated. The material is there; why not put the team down to work and regain the lost prestige of the High School. No qualities of a good team are lacking—even their "rooting" is commendable.

Dreadful Attack of Whooping Cough

Mrs. Ellen Harrison of 300 Park Ave. Kansas City, Mo., writes as follows: "Our two childred had a severe attack of whooping cough, one of them in the paroxysm of coughing would often faint and bleed at the nose. We tried everything we heard of without getting relief. We then called in our family doctor who prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar. With the very first dose they began to improve and we feel that it has saved their lives." Refuse substitutes. For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison, (Kan.,) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office to-day, we asked him about it. He says he had terrible pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its original pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Reduced Rates to Pacific Coast Points.

On account of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, at Portland, Ore., June 1 to Oct. 15, and various conventions to be held in cities on the Pacific coast during the Summer, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell round-trip tickets on specified dates, from all stations on its lines, to San Francisco and Los Angeles April 9 to September 27; to Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Victoria, Vancouver and San Diego, May 22 to September 27, at greatly reduced rates.

THEY NEVER FAIL.

That is What They say About Them in Bellefonte, and it is Therefore, Reliable.

Another proof, some more evidence, Bellefonte testimony to swell the long list of advocates who endorse the old Quaker remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this convicting endorsement of the claims made for that remarkable preparation:

Mrs. Emma J. Davis, of 246 E. Logan St., says: "I have a great deal of confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills, and have already recommended them in a published testimonial in 1897. I told how I had been relieved of kidney complaint and backache which had kept me suffering for years. Doan's Kidney Pills did this for me when other remedies had failed. Whenever I feel any symptom of my old trouble I send to F. Potts Green's drug store for a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and it never requires more than a few doses to get me right.

FIRST IN THE FIELD.
Just commenced in the New York Family Story paper
A Modern Bluebeard
or the adventures of a Female Sherlock Holmes a realistic romance founded on fact by Fanny May. You who have been reading the daily papers can easily imagine how the thought came to the author's mind to write this story. Though purely a romance, many of its most sensational and dramatic scenes are based on fact. It is a startling expose of a wicked man's wiles. This realistic romance begins in No. 1644 of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—There are 53 prisoners in the Lycoming county jail.

—Thomas D. Decker, of State College, is seriously ill, and has been in that condition for several weeks.

—The Receivers sale of the Glass Works property was held on Saturday. The property was sold to James H. Potter for $3450.00.

—A car load of beans and a car of canned pumpkin were shipped from the Howard canning factory last week to the eastern market.

Married—Thomas D. Decker and Anna M. Rager, both of State College were united in holy bonds of wedlock at the Methodist parsonage in this place Thursday morning at 10.30 by Rev. J. A. Wood Jr.

—Rufus Strohm, son of James B. Strohm, of Centre Hill, who for several years was connected with the International Correspondent School, Scranton as an instructor in the engineering department, has been advanced to the position of text book writer in the same school.

—While plowing in a field in Brunswick township, Berks county, Alexander Bowersox, a farmer's helper, turned over an old stump, under which he found an iron box containing gold coin to the value of $400. The coin was apparently buried about seventy-five years ago.

—Associate Judge Joseph Wertz, of Mifflin county, who is seventy-one years old, fell in his kitchen, breaking his right thigh, and receiving other injuries which may have serious consequences. He has resided in Lewistown all his life, and has a year of his term yet to serve.

—The little pony of Isaac and Helen Chambers, the children of Col. E. R. Chambers, had a narrow escape from death last Saturday in a peculiar way. It seems that in some way it got its feet and neck over the halter strap and came near strangling to death. It was feared at first that it would not live, but it is now on a fair road to recovery.

—George Schell, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Tyrone, died at his home in that place Saturday morning of kidney trouble. He was a carpenter and bridge builder for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company almost all his life. The funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Matthew's Catholic church. Interment in Oak Grove cemetery.

—This evening at eight o'clock sharp the deciding game of Basket ball for the silver cup will be played in the Armory of Co. B, between B. A. C. and the Bellefonte Academy. It promises to be very exciting and should be largely attended. The proceeds of the game will be given to Francis Miller, the young electrician, to help defray the doctor's bill incurred by the accident he sustained during a basket ball game last winter.

—Harry Andrew, son of David and Edith McNeal, of Tyrone, died at the home of the parents in the above mentioned place, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock of inflammation of the bowels. He was born at Bellefonte, June 12, 1899, being aged at death 5 years, 10 months and 18 days. The parents, two brothers and two sisters survive the deceased. Funeral services at the home were conducted by Rev. J. P. Cowling Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Bellefonte.

—The Centre County Beaver club 75 strong, traveling in a special car attended the State convention at Harrisburg on Wednesday and had a splendid time. They were met at the station by the Commonwealth band and escorted to the headquarters of Senator Penrose where the State leader greeted them cordially. They were the largest delegation present from any of the inland counties except the Plummer delegation from Blair county. They returned home Wednesday evening.

—The habit of fault finding debars many young men from the enjoyment of loyal friendship and renders their presence obnoxious, not only to their companions, but to the members of their families as well, and yet they will persist in looking at things in the wrong light. Scarcely anything suits them, they find fault with their clothes, food, treatment of parents—in fact almost everything and everybody but themselves, and instead of scattering roses in the pathway of life, they strew it with thorns. Is it any wonder that they fail to secure any real and permanent happiness, and that they are utterly dissatisfied with life? Stop whining; supplement fault finding with words of praise and you will be surprised at the friendly attitude of your acquaintances and the kindness that will greet you on every hand.

—You can get ice cream sodas at Green's pharmacy. To retain the largest trade in the town for almost fifty years means excellence of a superior kind.

—The many friends of Mrs. Crittenden wife of Rev. R. Crittenden will regret to hear that she is lying seriously ill at the home of Mrs. Nancy Orbison on Curtin street.

—The receipts of the concert given in St. John's Catholic church on Thursday evening last were $225.00, and the expenses were $83 leaving a balance for the benefit of the church of $142.00

—Rev. E. Heckman, of the State College charge of the M. E. Church preached a most excellent sermon to the I. O. O. F. of Lemont, Pine Grove and State College at Lemont Sunday morning

—An exciting game of base ball was played Saturday afternoon on the glass works meadow between Lock Haven and the Bellefonte Academy. Lock Haven won by the score of 13 to 12

—Young William Wolf, of East High St., was knocked down by a ball at the game Friday. Dr. Harris happened to be near and brought him in to town. The only damage sustained is a broken nose.

—The Forty Hour Devotion service will open in St. John's Catholic church next Sunday morning at 8 o'clock and continue until Tuesday evening. Several visiting priests will be here and the services will be quite interesting.

—General Fitz Hugh Lee, one of Virginia's foremost citizens, died in Washington D. C., on Friday of apoplexy. He was 68 years of age. During the civil war he served in the Southern Army in a cavalry regiment, —The interior of the Trust Company's bank has been greatly beautified during the past week or ten days. The walls have been handsomely re-papered and the wood work re-painted. The work was very artistically and satisfactorily performed by Edward J. Eckenroth and his men.

—Upon the return to her home on East Lamb street Saturday night Mrs. Samuel Hazel was greeted by a large company of friends, who were there to help in a social way to celebrate her birthday anniversary. About a dozen invited guests were present. The surprise was complete—the enjoyment supreme.

—The town of Spangler on Tuesday last took what many people regard as a long step toward its permanent welfare and progress, when, at the special election held to determine whether or not councils should be empowered to issue bonds in the amount of $10,000 for street improvements, the bond issue was carried by a vote of 74 to 35.

—The many friends throughout the county of Miss Mary E. Penney, of Snow Shoe, will be sorry to hear of her serious illness. Miss Penney has been attending the Lock Haven Normal School and was taken ill a few days ago with appendicitis and was operated on Tuesday at the Lock Haven hospital. She is reported today as getting along nicely with good hopes of recovery. Miss Penney is the young lady who won the World's Fair trip which the Bellefonte Republican gave a year ago to the most popular teacher in Centre county.

—John C. Miller, who for a short time ably edited the Bellefonte Republican and the Daily News, but who deserted us to enter the insurance business at Patton, is again in the editorial harness. We were both surprised and pleased on taking up a copy of the Barnesboro Star to find his name at the mast head as editor. Mr. Miller knows how to make a live, interesting paper and the Barnesboro Star shows the effect of his capable efforts, for it is one of the liveliest and newsiest weekly papers in Cambria county. We wish John C. and the Barnesboro Star an abundant success and a prosperous future.

—The organ recital given in St. John's Catholic church Thursday evening by Dr. Minor C. Baldwin drew a large and appreciative audience of Bellefonte's best people. It was a great musical treat and it is safe to say that everyone present was delighted and pleased. Prof. Baldwin has a charm that is inexplicable and gave a truly wonderful performance. Especially impressive was his rendition of "The Storm in the Mountains," one of the most realistic things imaginable. His audience was completely captivated. A large choir composed of local talent sang two excellent selections, the solo part in one of them being taken by Miss Elsie Weaver.

—Rev. James Henry Darlington, D. D., was consecrated as bishop of Harrisburg, Pa., at Christ Protestant Episcopal church, in Brooklyn Wednesday. The services were begun by the ringing of the church chimes, after which the procession of priests and choir boys, in the vestments, marched from the vestry through the crowded square to the nave of the church. The presiding bishop at the service was Right Rev. Ozi William Whitaker, D. D., bishop of Pennsylvania, and the Consecrators were Right Rev. Courtney Whitehead, of Pittsburg and Right Rev. Ethlebert Talbot, bishop of Central Pennsylvania. The resigning bishops were Right Rev. Geo. Franklin Seymour, Bishop of Springfield, Ill., and Right Rev. Frederick Burgess, bishop of Long Island. The sermon was delivered by Right Rev. Henry C. Potter, of New York.

—James K. Barnhart, the borough Treasurer, is having his home on North Thomas street re painted.

—John Kline, the little son of Mrs. John Kline of West Curtin street, fell on a piece of glass on Monday evening and cut his arm so severely that it was necessary for a doctor to take several stitches in it.

—Work on the new bridge over the race at the Pennsylvania depot on High street is progressing nicely. Contractor John Noll is putting in the stone abutments and the iron superstructure will be furnished by the York Bridge Company. The Council pays for the foundation while the County Commissioners erect the iron bridge.

Woman's Missionary Convention Meets.

The opening session of the fourth annual convention of the Woman's missionary society of West Susquehanna classis was held Tuesday evening in St. John's Reformed church. An anthem was rendered by the choir after which Rev Frank Wetzel, of Rebersburg, conducted the devotional services. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Schmidt, made an address of welcome to which Mrs. E. S. Noll, of New Berlin, Pa., responded. Then came a most forceful and inspiring address from Rev. D. M. Dittmar, Field Sec'ty of the Home mission Board. Mr. Dittmar in a remarkably clear way presented the dangers threatening our country because of the many millions of adults and children who are not under the influence of the church or who know not the Christ. The session closed with the enrollment of delegates. About 35 delegates and several visiting clergy having reported:

Wednesday morning's session opened by the Rev. Mr. Dittmar after which the president, Miss Gutelius, of Mifflinburg, took charge of the meeting. Mrs. Wm Knecht was elected secretary pro tem. Then followed reports from the delegates representing the various missionary societies of the classis. Mrs. Ellen E. Bower, gave her report as delegate to the missionary society of the Eastern Synod held in Wilkesbarre last October, A paper—"The Duty of Knowing" was a delightful treat from Mrs. Wm. Knecht. An address on the "Home Mission Problem" was next delivered by Rev. E. T. Rhoads, of Lewistown. The concluding address of the morning came from Rev. Mr, Dittmar.

Mrs. Annie E. Irvin,

At 3:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning Mrs. Annie E. Irvin, wife of Henry Irvin, died at her home in Altoona. She was born in Centre county on Aug. 28, 1840, and lived in Altoona for 34 years, and for that number of years was a member of the First M. E. church.

She is survived by her husband, two sons, Plummer and Walter Irvin; one daughter, Mrs. J. E. Morrow and two brothers, John Sims, of Tyrone, and Brittain Sims, of Altoona. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary Simpson, of Bellwood, and Mrs. Jerry Irvin, of Houtzdale.

The funeral services were held at her late home at 10 o'clock this morning. The interment will be private and will be made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Death of John Dale.

John Dale, one of the pioneer citizens of the Buffalo Run Valley, died at his home in what is known as the Big Hollow, Benner township, on Friday night, of infirmities incident to old age. He was born at Oak Hall on the farm where A. W. Dale now lives. He was the son of John Dale Sr., and was aged 76 years, 4 months and 19 days.

The deceased was married to Miss Catharine Houser who survives him with the following children. Martin, of Bellefonte; Samuel and Sylvester of DuBois; Sarah, wife of George Beers, Alice, wife of Wm. Emenhizer, of Benner township; John W., Mrs. Anna Grassmyre, Ella, wife of Grant Coble, Carrie, wife of John White, of Houserville.

John Dale was engaged in farming up until a few years of his death and was an honorable and trustworthy citizen. For fifty years he was a faithful, earnest member of the United Brethren church.

The funeral which took place on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock was the largest ever held in that part of the county. It was conducted by Rev. Davis, the United Brethren pastor at Lemont and Houserville. Interment was made in the cemetery at Houserville.

West Susquehanna Classis.

The forty-ninth annual session of this classis convened in the Reformed church at Hublersburg last evening at 7:30. The classis embraces churches in the counties of Centre, Clinton, Lycoming, Union and Snyder. It includes 23 ministers, 62 congregations and 5,781 members.

The opening sermon was preached last night by the retiring president, Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt. The classis will continue in session the remainder of this week. The evenings will be devoted to the discussion of interesting topics to which the public is cordially invited.

EVANGELIST COMING.

Will be in the Lutheran Church From May 7 to May 21.

Dr. L. L. Sieber is a regular Lutheran clergyman, who of late years, has devoted his whole time to Evangelistic work. He is a man of great power and possesses an attractive personality. He is known throughout the country as "The Gettysburg Evangelist," is a Pennsylvanian of German parentage. He was reared to industry and piety from his youth. He never sowed wild oats nor tasted the bitter fruits of the prodigal, converted in his youth by a days conviction of a sinful nature and acceptance of a Saviour mightier than sin, he gave himself to the Gospel Ministry, for which life work he was regularly prepared by a College and Theological training of seven years at Gettysburg, Pa. After years of successful work in the pastorial relation he gave himself to Evangelistic work, for which he is naturally adapted and eminently qualified. He has been engaged east and west for ten years, preaching from two to four times daily in many of the large towns and cities as well as many small towns and in the country districts, in all of which his wonderful tact and adaptation to human nature, baptized by the spirit for service he has been successful. This eminent Lutheran Divine will conduct services in the Lutheran church of Bellefonte from May 7 to May 21 to which all are cordially invited. Sunday services 10:30 a. m. 3:45 p. m. for men only, 7:30 p. m. Week day services 7:45 p. m.

Death of George Hastings Leyman.

George Hastings Leyman, one of the best known farmers in Bald Eagle valley, died at his home in Boggs township, about a mile east of Milesburg, at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, of dropsy. He had been ailing for more than a year. All last summer he was affected much of the time and was able to do but very little of his farm work. At times he would grow much better and his friends hoped that the disease had been successfully combatted only to have it recur again in a more aggravated stage. He was confined to the house most of the winter season.

Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Leyman, of Milesburg and was aged about 62 years. Most of his early life was spent in the coal and oil regions until about twenty years ago when he returned to this county and went to farming in Bogg township, where he has lived ever since. In politics Mr. Leyman was a democrat, one of the thoroughbreds, and a number of years ago was a candidate for the nomination for sheriff. He was always staunch and true to the party and the ticket nominated. As a citizen he was whole souled and progressive but it was possibly as a neighbor and friend that he was esteemed the most. Openhearted, generous and charitable he was at all times a friend of those in need, and his death means a loss to that community as well as the county in general that will be hard to make up.

He is survived by his wife and one child, Daniel Hartman Hastings Leyman. Also five brothers and one sister, as follows: F. F. Leyman, of Tittusville; W. H. Bradford; M. M., of McKeesport. J. B., of Austin, and Jno. R., whose address is not known, and Mrs. Mary C. Dean, Duncannon.

The funeral was held Saturday morning, interment at Roland.

A Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hendershot gave a birthday party in honor of their daughter Miss Elsie on Monday evening May 1st, those present were as follows:

Messrs. Geo. C. Johnson, Geo. Downing, M. P. Breon, Mog Miller, Jack Brien, Fred Waite, E. L. Gingher, Jas. Lose, Harry Thompson, Charles Martin, Fred Landis, Chas. Knapp, Malcolm Waite, Boyd Nolan, Charley Moran; Misses Mary Hendershot, Edna Thomas, Kathryne Royer, Kathryne Daily, Carrie Miller, Edna Hamilton, Nettie Springer, Pearl Derstine, Lena Miller, Violet Irvin, Helen Landis, Jennie Lose, Mary Clark, Bernice Landis, Grace Barlet, Helen Hamilton.

They all returned home in the "wee" hours of the morning, telling Miss Elsie that they had a pleasant time and wishing her many more and happy birthdays. Elsie says she won't be an old maid. Good for Elsie.

—Miss Julia McCafferty has so far recovered from her serious illness as to be able to be about again.

Kline--Kaup.

A very quiet yet pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. R. M. Kaup, Bush's Addition, last Thursday at 11 o'clock.

In the presence of the immediate families, Mr. Arthur E. Kline and Miss Blanche B. Kaup were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by the Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt. Mr. Kline's brother George W was groomsman and Miss Annie M. Kaup bridesmaid, the flower children were Rebecca Fleming and Fred Kaup.

Mr. Kline is the son of John A. Kline of Millheim, Pa. The newly wedded couple left Thursday for their home in Altoona, where a house already furnished awaits their arrival. The best wishes of their many friends will follow them to their new home.

Those present from a distance were Jacob Kaup, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Bailey and two daughters and Mrs. Kahn, of Altoona; John A. Kline, wife and daughter, of Centre Mills; Misses Anna Kaup and Nellie Holter, of Oak Hall.

House Burned.

Monday at noon the house owned by Hutch Lutz, at Rock, was burned with almost all of its furnishings. About 12 o'clock fire was discovered, but the flames spread so rapidly that very little of the household goods could be saved. While trying to rescue some of the furniture Mrs. Lutz was slightly burned A few young men who happened to be near assisted in doing all that could be done. There was no insurance on the property; hence the loss is great. Mr. Lutz is a hard working man and for several years has been striving to pay for his farm, and only one more installment remained to be paid. We sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Lutz in this trial through which they must pass.

Encouraging Tree Planting.

To encourage the planting of trees the Governor signed the bill allowing a rebate of eighty per cent. in the taxes on land on which there shall be planted forest or timber trees of not less than three hundred to an acre for a period of thirty-five years, provided the rebate does not amount to more than forty-five cents an acre.

The period of exemption is counted from the time the lands have been planted. The act does not exempt more than five hundred acres of land owned by any one person or corporation.
